• A quart of milk is the most economical food you can buy.

• It gives you more of your daily requirements than any other food!

• Be thrifty... be smart... combine milk with other foods to make meals go further, taste better and provide more food value. Even if milk cost twice as much it would STILL be your best food buy!

Milk for everyone whether 6 - 16 - or 60! 3 glasses a day for adults 4 to 6 for children

our name guarantees the quality of our dairy products

Social Notes — Montreal

(Additional Montreal Social Notes on Pages Two and Three)

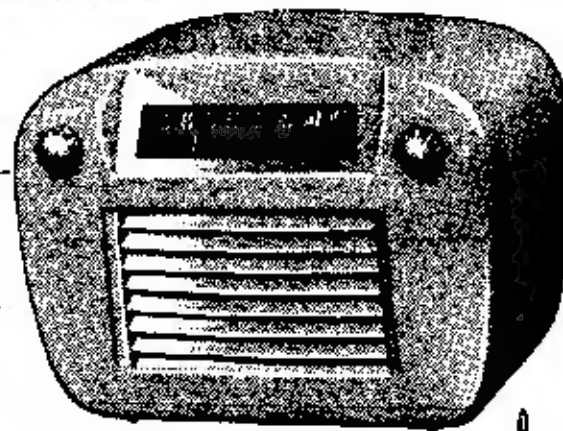

Mr. and Mrs. I. Prasoff, St. Joseph Boulevard West, gave a party for their daughter, Joyce, who was four years old. Joyce wore a powder-blue pinafore with a white blouse, and blue socks and white shoes, and had blue ribbons in her hair. A white birthday cake with pink and blue flowers, and pink, yellow, and blue streamers decorated the table. Souvenirs were given to the children. Present were Joyce's grandparents, Mrs. H. Prasoff, Bloomfield Avenue; Mrs. I. Ruttenberg, Outremont Avenue; and her great-grandmother, Mrs. M. Ornstein, Outremont Avenue; and her uncle, M. Ruttenberg, of Brockville, Ont.; her sister, Marlene; her cousins, Jay Prasoff and Joyce Paula Singer; and Shirley Pervin, Rosalind Davidson, Esther Deutsch, Ian and Rena Barcovitch, Sheila Auerbach, and Sandra Katz. Mesdames B. Deutsch, A. Prasoff, and H. Singer assisted in serving.

Entertaining for Miss Shirley Carpanan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moe Carpanan, 974 Pratt Avenue, whose marriage to Irving, son of Mrs. Poslums, 3020 Van Horne Avenue, and the late H. Poslums, took place on December 21, was Mrs. Moe Karpman, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. M. Kall, 3025 Linton Avenue, sister of the bride-elect, at a tea presentation, with fifty guests; Mrs. Rhoda Kanofsky, de Vimy Avenue, tea presentation, with fifty guests; Mrs. Abe Brown, 3025 Linton Avenue, aunt of the bride-elect, luncheon presentation, at the Mount Royal Hotel; Mrs. M. Kall, 3025 Linton Avenue, sister of the bride-elect, at a tea presentation; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goldberg, St. Lawrence Boulevard, at an evening party presentation at the home of her mother, Mrs. U. Blank, Hutchison Street; Mr. and Mrs. Hyman Rubin, Durocher Avenue, uncle and aunt of the bride, dinner presentation; Miss Rita Isaacs, Park Avenue, fiancée of Hyman Carpanan, brother of the bride-elect, evening party presentation; Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Ryant, de l'Espey Avenue, uncle and aunt of the bride-elect, dinner presentation; Mrs. Harry Sachs, St. Urbain Street, aunt of the bride-elect, at a tea presentation at the Mount Freda Klemensberg. The birthday cake was green, brown, and pink, and inscribed: There were candles; and favors for the children.

Entertaining for Miss Sybil Samuels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Samuels, 1831 Ducharme Avenue, prior to her marriage to Jack Tock, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Tock, 138 Villeneuve Street West, were: Mrs. Maxwell Cohen, 4855 Queen Mary Road, cousin of the bride-elect, at a tea presentation with fifty guests. Mrs. Cohen wore a black crepe dress; Mrs. Samuels, a black crepe dress, with black sequin trimming at the neckline; Mrs. Tock, a black crepe dress; and the bride-elect, a black crepe dress, with a cinnamon-brown satin beret, and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Moe Thau, sister of the groom-elect, poured; and Mrs. Morris Samuels, aunt of the bride-elect, cut the ices. There was a table centerpiece of pink and white carnations; and the house was decorated with flowers. Mrs. Charles Brotman, 5400 Queen Mary Road, entertained twenty-five guests at a luncheon presentation in her niece's honor, Mrs. Brotman wearing a black dress; Mrs. Samuels, a brown tailored crepe suit, with a brown hat; Mrs. Tock, a grey suit, pink blouse, and brown hat; and the bride-elect, a black moire fish-tail back dress, and a black cocktail hat, with a blue ostrich feather. There was a centerpiece of flowers to decorate the table. Mesdames Maxwell Cohen, Eli Horwitz, and Harry Spector, daughters of the hostess, assisted her in serving. Mrs. Ernest A. Kutzman, 6062 Grosvenor Avenue, entertained eight guests at a luncheon presentation, the hostess wearing a black tulle suit; and Miss Samuels, a brown crepe dress. Mrs. Bernard Abner, de Vimy Avenue, entertained thirty-five guests at an evening card party presentation. Mrs. Abner wearing a black crepe dress; Mrs. Samuels, a plum-shaded crepe dress, with matching sequin trimming; Mrs. Tock, a black dress, with lace trimming, and a black hat; and the honoree, a black crepe dress, with rhinestone trimming, and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Maxwell Cohen poured, assisted by Mrs. Harold Samuels. The table was centered with flowers. Mrs. Roman Pniowsky, Park Avenue, entertained Miss Samuels at an evening musicale. Mrs. Eli Horwitz, a cousin of the bride, Decarie Boulevard, entertained six guests at a dinner presentation, at which the honoree wore a black dress. Mrs. Cyril Shatsky, 839 Querbes Avenue, entertained eight guests at a tea presentation, at which she wore a black dressmaker suit; Mrs. Samuels, and Mrs. Tock, black; and the honoree, a brown crepe dress. Mrs. S. Tock, Villeneuve Street West, mother of the groom-elect, entertained Miss Samuels at a tea, with forty-five present. The hostess wore a black crepe dress, with black lace trimming; Mrs. Samuels, a black wool-crepe dress, with steel beading; and Miss Samuels, a brown crepe dress, with blue sequin embroidery, a black bonnet, trimmed with blue ribbon, and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Moe Thau, daughter of the hostess, assisted; with Mrs. A. Taran, Mrs. D. Taran, and Miss Marela Messer. The table was decorated with flowers.

FREEDOM

isn't FREE!

Freedom, like anything worth having, carries a price tag.

We can't enjoy it without accepting its responsibilities.

There's freedom of speech—and we have to accept the responsibility for what we say.

There's freedom to worship as we please—and the responsibility is ours to see that others aren't persecuted, either.

There are lots of freedoms, and they all have their responsibilities.

The freedom to use whiskey for instance.

That carries a three-fold responsibility: to ourselves, to our families and to our communities.

As the House of Seagram has so often said, it is to drink moderately or not at all!

Men who Think of Tomorrow

Practice Moderation Today!

Reorganize A.J.C. As New Body

The American Jewish Congress, was formally reorganized at Chicago, Ill., into a permanent agency to co-ordinate the activities of the sixty-two major Jewish groups in the United States.

The 450 delegates to the Congress's fourth annual meeting voted to establish a welfare organization to bring together all fragments of the American Jewish community after more than 100 years of internal conflict and strife. Announcement of the final vote was greeted with a tremendous ovation.

A formal name for the organization was still to be agreed upon but the name the American Jewish Assembly has been frequently suggested for the new body.

The organization will be the spokesman for American Jewry in international affairs, will work with the Jewish Agency in the new Jewish nation in matters affecting the rights and status of the nations and will operate in defence of Jewish rights in the United States.

The delegates, heartened by the United Nations decision to partition Palestine, reached unanimous agreement on the purposes of the new over-all body, which is to be "an organization, democratic in structure and representative of the American Jewish community" and to "to protect the rights and to promote the general welfare of the Jewish people, here and abroad; and to enhance the contribution of the Jewish community to American democracy."

Woman Aided N.Y. Civic Spirit

Mrs. Ida Strasburger Cohen, wife of Julius Henry Cohen, of Elmford, N. Y., and Montauk Point, L. I., former general counsel of the Port of New York Authority, died in the White Plains Hospital, Born in New York, a daughter of the late Abraham S. and Julia Stern Strasburger, she was married in 1900.

For forty years Mrs. Cohen was active in civic affairs.

A pamphlet she wrote in 1925 bears the title: "What We Should All Know About Our Streets." The Fruits and Flower Mission, which distributes fruits and flowers to unfortunates, received her aid for twenty years. Long prominent in the affairs of the Society for Ethical Culture, Mrs. Cohen was chairman of its conference committee on civic affairs in 1932.

MARRIAGES

RUDMAN-ANDES

The marriage of Esther Hindelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Andes, 4185 Clark Street, to Murray M. Rudman, son of Mrs. M. Rudman, 4387 de Bullion Street, and the late J. Rudman, took place at Bnai Jacob Synagogue, on October 18, at six o'clock, Rabbi M. Wachtfogel and Dr. C. N. Denburg, Rabbi officiating, assisted by Cantor A. Greenberg. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a black-velvet gown, with a high neckline and Peter Pan collar; long, tight sleeves, pointed at the wrists; and long bodice, draped to a knot in back; a very full skirt, and sweeping long train. She had a satin bonnet, with lilies-of-the-valley, with a long veil; and carried a cascade bouquet of Easter lilies and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Lillian Andes, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore dusty-pink nylon net and lace, fashioned in off-the-shoulder effect, with pink lace draped around the shoulders; and pink lace draped around the hips, tied in a bow at the back. Pink ostrich plumes, with a matching veil, composed her head-dress; and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and pom-poms. Allen Rudman, brother of the groom, was best man; and A. S. Rosenthal, Harry Heltner, Maurice Andes, Joel Andes, Daniel Yashin, and Morton Stavits were ushers. Daniel Rosenthal, in full-dress, was page boy. Candelabra, with fall flowers, adorned the aisle, and the altar; with white ribbons joining the pews. The choir sang; and Edward Lermovitch, cousin of the bride, sang "Because". At the reception at the synagogue, there were candelabra and flowers on the tables; and dinner music was played. Mrs. Andes, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe floor-length dress, with long, tight sleeves, draped skirt, and short train; and a black faille hat, decorated with a sequin flower; and her corsage was of Talisman roses. Mrs. Rudman, mother of the groom, wore a grey crepe dress, with a short train, and fashioned in tunic-effect; grey satin and tulle hat, and corsage of red roses. The bride and groom left for New York, and Atlantic City, N.J., the bride travelling in a beige gabardine skirt and shortie coat; with black accessories. They are living in Montreal. Maurice Andes, of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. William Eckel, of Newark, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Chernoff, of El Paso, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rothman, Mrs. Rose Rothman, Mrs. Edith Sporn, all of Ottawa, Ont.; and Mr. and Mrs. H. Heltner, of Ste. Chrysostome, were guests.

DANSKY-BROWN

The marriage of Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, 280 Bernard Avenue West, to Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. Dansky, 3847 Arcade Street, took place at Chevra Kadisha Synagogue on Sunday, October 28, at half-past six o'clock, Dr. C. N. Denburg, Rabbi, officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her parents. Her white satin floor-length dress had a high, embroidered neckline; long, pointed sleeves, and fitted bodice, with a hooded skirt, and long and purse, to match. Her corsage was of red roses. Mrs. Dansky, mother of the groom, wore a sky-blue floor-length dress, with a matching head-dress; and similar corsage. The bride and groom left for New York, where they spent ten days, Mrs. Dansky travelling in a grey and black ensemble, with black accessories. They are living at 280 Bernard Avenue West.

LEWIN-LEOPOLD

The marriage of Bella, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Leopold, 5718 Esplanade Avenue, to Letha Lewin, Esplanade Avenue, only son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lewin, of Europe, took place at Reverend M. Master's Hall, on October 26, at six o'clock, Rev. Master officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her white slipper-satin gown was designed as a sweetheart neckline, long pointed sleeves, tightly-fitted bodice, a full skirt, and short train. A coronet of white ostrich feathers caught her long veil of white illusion tulle, and she carried a Bible, covered with mauve orchids and streamers of white satin, with white pom-poms. Miss Cora Leopold, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a pink tulle gown, with a high, Chinese-styled neckline, cap sleeves, with pink matching gloves; and full, bustle-backed skirt. She had a halo of pink veiling, and carried an arm bouquet of blue carnations, with matching blue ribbon. Hilda Kane, cousin of the bride, was flower girl, wearing blue net over matching blue tulle, with pink satin ribbon trimming. She had a coronet of pink rosebuds, and carried a pink and blue nosegay, tied with pink and blue ribbon. David Silverman was best man. For decoration, there were standards of flowers, with candelabra trimmed with white satin ribbon, and flowers at the canopy. Organ music was played; and "Because" was sung. For the reception, the bride's table held two centrepieces of fall flowers, and candles tied with pink satin ribbons. The other tables were decorated with flowers and candles. Mrs. Leopold, mother of the bride, wore a blue gown, draped in front, with a softly-draped neckline, and cap sleeves, and silver belt and matching silver accessories. She had a grey tulle hat, with blue feather trimming, grey gloves, and a mauve orchid corsage. Mrs. B. Rubenstein, who gave the groom in marriage, wore a black gown, trimmed with black beads, and long

BODY BUILDERS

A quart of milk has almost as much protein as half a pound of beef! It also contains valuable vitamins and minerals. So it's a smart idea to have milk every day on mealtimes days... and every day to see that your family gets its "health quota" — at least a quart of milk a day for growing children; a pint for adults.

CLASS IN COOKERYRICE AND APPLE PUDDING

one and one-half cups rice four or five tablespoons two eggs sugar
one-quarter teaspoon salt six large apples
Boil the rice in water for about ten minutes, and strain. Add the eggs and salt, and mix well. Slice the apples, and add. Keep in refrigerator overnight. Then put in an oiled baking dish, and bake in a moderate oven, at 350 degrees, for an hour.

Mrs. Louis Schwartz,
26 Glenard Road, Toronto.CHOCOLATE PIN WHEELS

one and one-half cups sifted flour one well-beaten egg-yolk
one-half teaspoon baking powder one-half cup sugar
one-eighth teaspoon salt three tablespoons milk
one square melted bitter chocolate one-half cup butter or other shortening

Sift flour once, measure and add baking powder and salt, and then sift again. Cream the butter, add the sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add the egg-yolk, and beat well. Add the flour alternately with the milk. Divide the dough into two parts, and to one part blend in the chocolate. Chill until firm enough to roll. Roll each half into a rectangular sheet, one-eighth inch thick, placing the plain dough over the chocolate, and roll up the pastry as if for a jelly-roll. Chill overnight, or until firm enough to slice. Cut in slices one-eighth of an inch thick; and bake on an ungreased baking-sheet in a 400-degree oven, for five minutes, or until lightly-browned. This makes three and one-half dozen cookies. Before baking, if the dough is rolled, and wrapped carefully in wax-paper, it may be kept in a refrigerator for several days.

TORONTOMARRIAGES*FLORENCE-TURECK

The marriage of Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Tureck, 66 Walmer Road, to Harold Florence, son of Mr. and Mrs. Myer Florence, of Peterboro, took place on Sunday, November 9, at five o'clock, at Montreal, Quebec. The bride wore a gown of ivory-colored slipper satin, fashioned with an off-the-shoulder bodice, trimmed with sequins, and full skirt, ending in a long train. Her finger-tip veil was draped to a matching satin headpiece, trimmed with seed pearl beads, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias, white chrysanthemums, and swainsons. Miss Marion Spring was maid of honour, in a pale blue satin gown, with matching braided head-dress. The flower girl, Jeanne Perly, wore a pink taffeta dress. Louis Tureck attended the groom as best man, and the ushers were: Sydney Koffman, Hyman Banks, Harry Perly, Aaron Black, Morris Tureck, Bernard Tugg, Max Florence, and Ralph Florence. The bride's mother, Mrs. Tureck, wearing a gown of light blue crepe, trimmed with blue sequins, and corsage of red roses, received with Mrs. Florence, mother of the groom, in rose-coloured crepe, with a corsage of yellow roses. For the wedding trip to New York, the bride wore a grey suit, with blue blouse, black accessories, and a beaver coat. They will reside at 68 Walmer Road.

gregations, at the Community House of Congregation Emanu-El, 1 East Sixth Street, in New York. Dr. Gamoran addressed members of the National Federation of Temple Sisterhoods, under whose sponsorship he visited eight displaced persons camps in Germany during his recent three-month trip that included England, Ireland, France and Palestine.

Lack of work was the most bitter complaint he heard in the camps. But, he added, the problem of educating displaced children was as complex and pathetic.

"Learning the three R's is inadequate for the thousands of children who have lived through experiences too horrible to tell," Dr. Gamoran said. An emotional re-education to make them feel wanted and loved is a larger part of the program undertaken in the American Zone of Occupation in Germany by the Central Board of Jewish Education, he asserted.

The board is composed of representatives of the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Jewish Agency for Palestine and refugees in the DP camps, some of whom were teachers before the war.

Dr. Gamoran praised the mil-

Herschorn officiating, assisted by Cantor F. Schleppack. The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white lace period-styled gown, fashioned with a tulle yoke, long, tightly-fitted sleeves, pointed at the wrists, tightly-fitted bodice, and bouffant skirt, with a long, and bouffant train. Her headpiece was a crown trimmed with ostrich tips, with a finger-tip-length tulle illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses tied with satin ribbon. Miss Sylvia Corber, as maid of honor, wore a pink lace bouffant-style gown, with a sequined crown, and pink tulle veil, and carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations. Brenda Randolph, the flower girl, wore a pink moire colonial-styled dress, with a pink bonnet trimmed with blue flowers, and carried a nosegay similar to that of the bride. Miss Wenkert, uncle of the bride, was best man. I. Caplan, Mos Stavits, Herman Vosberg, Sol. Stein, Joseph Vatch, Robert Levy, Wilbur Levy, and B. Trachtenberg were ushers. Hersch Levy was page boy. The decorations were of pink, white, and mauve chrysanthemums, and along the aisle, there were flowers and lighted candles in candelabra. "Because" was sung. Receiving two hundred and fifty guests at dinner, Mrs. Wenkert, mother of the bride, wore a royal-blue mandarin-styled gown, with sequin trimming, and matching hat, with shaded ostrich feather trimming, and gold-colored accessories; with Mrs. Levy, mother of the groom, wearing a blue crepe gown, with gold sequin embroidery, and matching feathered hat, with gold-colored accessories. The bride and groom flew to New York, the former travelling in a grey gabardine suit, with black accessories, and a black lamb coat. They will live at 2767 Maplewood Avenue. Mr. and Mrs. S. Spinn and family; Mrs. H. Lefkowitz and family; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Arron, and Jack Spinn, all of New York; Mrs. N. Field, of Baltimore, Md.; Miss Wenkert, of California; Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Wilno Reunion In Paris

The Wilno Jews in Paris live in their own private universe. I had the privilege of penetrating it for one unforgettable afternoon, writes a correspondent to the Australian Jewish Herald.

The occasion was a reception to three refugees who had come out of the Wilno ghetto via Warsaw—the Yiddish poets Sutzkever, Grade and Kocherginsky. The whole Wilno Jewish community in Paris turned out to take the three illustrious guests to its bosom. It was an afternoon of high ecstasy, of deep mourning and of many bitter tears.

The Wilno Club, seating two hundred, held a capacity audience of five hundred. I was among the lucky ones who had a seat, but who could sit when so many stood up every five minutes to cheer and wildly applaud this or the other remark of the speakers? It was an agitated afternoon.

Sutzkever, young, tall and pale, the very picture of a poet, read from his poetry. He refused to talk about Wilno. The things that hurt most one never talks about, he explained. But he let his poetry speak for him. Written in the Wilno ghetto, on the heels of the unspeakable events, the poems have beaten on the hearts and minds of the listeners like hammer strokes on the anvil.

I've heard much poetry reading in my life but I recall no poem that made such terrific impact upon my imagination as Sutzkever's poem about the teacher Myra, who, having started with a class of one hundred and thirty in the Wilno ghetto, continues to lose her children daily until, when the class is reduced to seven, she leads the pupils in song in order to defuse the cries of anguish and of terror that swell from children's hearts and throats.

To me Blalik's famous "In The City of Slaughter" written after the Kishinev pogrom, pales in comparison with this lyric documentary of Jewish martyrdom of the Second World War. The crowd listened with head bowed. I looked at my neighbour at the table and saw tears glistening in her deep blue eyes. The poet himself, erect, taut, his eyes on the page, seemed to look far, far away. Was he thinking of the corner in the Wilno ghetto, where in the shadow of death, his immortal lines were written?

But it was Kocherginsky who moved the audience to an emotional outburst I've rarely seen in all my life. He too declined to talk about Wilno. He'd rather chant the songs they used to sing in the Wilno ghetto during the darkest days when hope went a-glimmering. And he sang. With his small thin voice he could hardly grace the concert stage. But for tones which reach out, like long fingers, into the very recesses of the heart and pluck from there an emotional vibration that shakes your frame and your whole being, give me Kocherginsky any time. He sang softly the song of those doomed to the crematorium and there was not an eye that remained dry. All eyes were in Paris.

My tears mingling with theirs.

Then he stopped, cleared his throat and intoned a new song. It was altogether different in words, in melody, in mood. It was the Song of the Jewish Partisans, written by Hershel Glick, a Wilno ghetto fighter, who lost his life in open combat with the enemy. It is a song of hope and runs like this:

Sok nit keimel az du gehst dem letzten weg,
Wen himlen bleierne farstelen bleie teg—
Weil kumen yet noch unser ois-gebenkte shoh,
S'vet a polk tun unser trot: Mir zainen do.

And then this marvellous stanza:

Geshriben is dos lid mit blut un nit mit blol,
S'is nit kein lid fun Zummer-faigel oif der frei—
Dos hot a folk zwishen fallen-dige vent,
Dos lid gesungen mit naganen in di hent.

The crowd went wild. Throughout the hall men and women stood up joining in song. I too found my long-lost baritone. Over and over again the song was repeated. I looked at my neighbour. There she stood transfixed, the deep blue eyes blazing, singing at the top of her voice.

Back to earth with Chayim Grade. He delivered a learned dissertation on the birth and death of Jewish communities throughout Jewish history and it seems there are laws governing the rise and fall of Jewish centres such as Sura and Pumbedita in Babylonia, Alexandria in Egypt, Toledo and Valladolid in Spain, Troies and Paris in France, Mayence and Regensburg in Germany and Warsaw and Wilno in Poland. But truth to tell, I had no more ears to listen. On my heart strings like on a harp touched by the soft fingers of the breeze, played, played, the poetry of Sutzkever and the ghetto songs of Kocherginsky.

A survey of disabled and handicapped Jewish DP's undertaken by a special Commission on Invalids established by the Joint Distribution Committee, OSE, the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Central Committee of Liberated Jews, indicates that only five per cent of the 2,321 handicapped Jews in Berlin, Bergen-Belsen and the U.S. Zone of Germany are unable to work. Despite injuries and wounds received as a result of the war, concentration camps, ghetto experiences, or fighting with the underground, more than half of the disabled Jews listed in the survey are being helped to return to their former occupations. Others requiring special work conditions are being trained at new occupations.

The spectacular Whooping Crane was once common in Canada and the United States, but in the last thirty-five years it has become the rarest of North American birds. After scientific investigations, conducted from Texas to Saskatchewan, it has been estimated that there are less than thirty "Whoopers" in the world! Existing legal protection strengthened by public sentiment is essential to the survival of the species. To increase Canadians' appreciation of the need for conservation, The Carling Conservation Club issues free, authoritative literature on the many aspects of conservation to all its members, as well as colourful reprints of wildlife pictures.

In 1852, the last Great Auk was killed, as had been thousands upon thousands in the preceding years. This aquatic bird provides another example of the inevitable results of wholesale slaughter of wildlife.
